NEWPORT,

BY CHANSTON & NORMAN,

127 THAMES STREET.

FRIDAY MORNING, JULY 16, 1852.

ELECTION MONDAY, NOV. 8.

WHILE National Nominations

FOR PRESIDENT,
WILFIELD SCOTT,
OF NEW JERSEY.

FOR VICE PRESIDENT,
WILLIAM A. GRAHAM,
OF NORTH CAROLINA.

Electors.

ELIMA HARRIS, of Cemetery.
LEO P. HAZARD, of Newport.
ANOS D. SMITH, of Providence.
CHARLES ALLEN, of North Kingstown.

We call the attention of our readers to the advertisement of the Pavilion Hotel, at Brighton, Staten Island. It is a delightful location, and the House is well arranged for the comfort and convenience of guests; persons on their way home, after they leave Newport, will find it very pleasant to stop there for a while, and we can assure them that no pains will be spared to make their time pass agreeably; it is a very healthy location.

JENNY LIND.—Grace Greenwood, who sailed in the Atlantic for Liverpool, with Madame Jenny Lind Goedeckmidt and husband, writes thus of the Swedish Nightingale, in a letter to the National Era:

"For the first few days of our voyage she seemed singularly shy and reserved; I have seen her sit hour after hour by herself, in some unrequited part of the vessel, looking out over the sea; often wondered if her thoughts were busy with the memories of her glorious career—these were living over her past triumphs, the countless times when the cold quiet of the highest heaven of fashion broke into thunders of acclamation above her, and came down in a rain of flowers at her feet. Was it of these perishable wreaths, placed on her brow amid the glare and tumult of the great world, she grieved; or of the later crowning of her womanhood, when softly and silently her brow received from God's own hand the crimson of a holy and enduring love?—Was it the happy, loving wife, or the great, world-renowned artist, who dreamed there alone, looking out over the sea."

We are under obligations to Mr. Stinckpoor and Mr. Short for favors.

Mr. Kosouth sailed from New York on Wednesday afternoon, in the steamer Africa.

There is a Quebec in Philadelphia, so upright that he won't sit down to his meals. The late Connecticut Legislature repealed the old laws forbidding circuses and theatrical exhibitions within the State. There has been a rush of those amusements into the land of steady habits ever since. A clever toast at a celebration of the Fourth there, runs this wise: Our Legislature—we asked of them the Maine liquor law, and they have given us the circus.

Godey's Lady's Book for August, which has just been received, is essentially what its name indicates—a book for ladies. It is embellished with portraits of Mrs. Abigail Adams, Mrs. Madison, Mrs. Hamilton, Mrs. Louisa C. Adams; besides which it contains several other engravings of merit, including illustrations of fancy needle-work. Its various articles are of an agreeable character.

Among the visitors in town, we notice Silas Livermore, Esq., editor of the Fall River News.

FEMALE MEDICAL EDUCATION SOCIETY.—The object of this Society is "to provide for and promote the education of Midwives, Nurses, and Female Physicians, and to diffuse among women a knowledge of physiology, and the principles and means of preserving and restoring health." The object is one which has received the decided approbation of many of the most judicious persons in the land who have given attention to and are acquainted with the subject, physicians, clergymen, editors, merchants, and ladies. The Society has under its auspices a Female Medical College, situated in Boston, at the corner of Boylston and Carver Streets. To sustain this institution and to promote its objects, it solicits the aid of all who approve of these objects. Silas Livermore, Esq., an agent of the Society is now in town, and will personally invite the attention of our citizens to its claims. We deem the subject an important one; and the cause a laudable one; and we trust that it may receive an efficient support.

Miss Baldwin, of Virginia, a niece of President Madison, is teacher in a Missionary school in Athens, Greece.

We take the following correspondence, in regard to Artillery Company affairs, from the Providence Journal:

Providence, July 13, 1852.

To the Editor of the Journal:

I regret that I feel obliged to take any notice of the letter of Col. Perry, published in your paper of this day, but as I consider his communication a tissue of misstatements, and having mixed me pretty well up in them all, I cannot allow it to pass unnoticed, and must beg the use of your columns to give a few more facts in reference to this unpleasant occurrence. Upon Col. Perry's arrival here, I joined him at his Square, and escorted him to his quarters in Pioneer Hall, and I did not see him speak to him till I called with the committee upon him for an explanation, and this, it is remembered, was subsequent to Col. Perry's answer to the Chief Marshal, which the latter communicated immediately to the Committee. Neither did I make use of the language which he has insinuated to me, and how far he correctly quotes the language of the others whom he singles out, the letters accompanying my communication will show.

It matters not to me whether he had received any information about the position assigned the band in the procession, before the Chief Marshal waited on him; he then knew it, and, coming with the feelings he admits he did, as to occupying any position, performing any duty, and as far as could of meeting the wishes of the military and civil authorities, he should have promptly acceded to the request, particularly so, as he well knew that the location of the band in the procession by the Committee was the condition of his invitation, and for the additional reason given by him, that, when the three companies, took their places in line, the band "accidentally" in front of his company, he should have been willing to correct the mistake, and more than ever ready to respond to the wishes of the Committee.

But will not tire your patience, or that of your readers, with any further details. I do not think that Col. Perry has made much advance in this matter since his visit, but I leave the public to judge of my actions, and here I decline the subject, not thinking it worthy of any further notice, though I have not said half what I could say in defense of my course on that occasion.

S. C. BLODGETT.

PROVIDENCE, July 13, 1852.

Sir:—Having carefully read in today's Journal the letter of Col. Perry to the editor, we cheerfully, and in justice to you as one of the Committee, do most unqualifiedly say that no interview took place between you and Col. Perry about the Fort Band, until we had received his answer to the request made by the Chief Marshal to him, when we, together with you, waited upon Col. P., and the hasty explanation which then ensued there was nothing ungentlemanly said by you, in our presence at least, or which we did not wholly sustain you in, and no such expression as has been implied to you by Col. Perry was made in our hearing.

SAMUEL ALLEN,
WILLIAM O. DARLING,
GEORGE W. HALL,
Of the Committee of Arrangements.

To S. C. Blodgett.

PROVIDENCE, July 13, 1852.

Sir:—Presuming that I am "the gentleman" whom Col. Perry has referred to in his letter published in this day's Journal, as being an officer in the Arcade Bank, I would distinctly state to you that I had no conversation whatever with Col. Perry, on the 5th inst., about the band.

CHAS. H. MASON, Assistant Marshal.

To S. C. Blodgett.

PROVIDENCE, July 13, 1852.

Sir:—When the procession was formed and ready to move I called upon Col. Perry, in the discharge of my duties as Chief Marshal, and without any conversation with the Committee, to take the position assigned them in the procession. He replied, "if you take the Band I shall leave the line." I positively deny having had any other conversation with him, but then left to report the matter to the Committee.

JOS. W. TAYLOR, Chief Marshal.

"A LITTLE KNOWLEDGE IS A DANGEROUS THING."

THIS saying has but a partial application. A very little knowledge of the physiology of the hair teaches that want of care deprives many of that most becoming ornament to the person. Those who would desire to preserve their heads from baldness, use thinness on the scalp, prevent discolouration, and cause a glossiness and softness of texture, should use Bingle's Hyperion Fluid.

May lay upon the process of shaving, as one which requires a merely mechanical attention to accomplish perfectly, it is not so. The conditions which furnish the speciest and easiest accomplishment are a healthy state of the skin, a suitable lather to preserve its soundness, and a suitable knife to shave its soundness. Bingle's Amule is the most approved article for softening and smoothing the skin, and imparting to it an elasticity inconsistent with any chance of irritation, or eruptions which follow it. Sold by Wm. H. HAZARD & CO., C. G. G. HAZARD, ARD, R. J. TAYLOR.

GLOBE DINING SALOON,

The repetition that this saloon enjoys a unique guarantee to the stranger who visits New York, of being well taken care of, and kindly treated, is a very small expense. In fact the expense of living here need not be more than about 37 1/2cts. per day.

Connected with their Dining Rooms, they have pleasant and comfortable living apartments.

K. & W. would respectfully invite their friends to give them a call when visiting the city, assuring them that no pains will be spared to make their stay agreeable.
